MEMORANDUM

February 20, 2018

To: Nevada Board of Wildlife Commissioners, County Advisory Boards to Manage Wildlife, and Interested Publics

From: Brian Wakeling, Administrator, Game Division

Title: Commission Regulation 18-10, Migratory Game Bird Seasons, Bag Limits, and Special Regulations for Waterfowl and Webless Migratory Game Birds; Public hunting limited on Wildlife Management Areas and Designated State Lands – 2018–2019 Season – For Possible Action

Description: The Commission will consider recommendations for seasons, bag limits, and special regulations for migratory game birds for the 2018–2019 season and adopt regulations that comply with the proposed regulations framework for the 2018–2019 hunting seasons on certain migratory game birds established by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The Commission will also consider rules regulating public hunting on Wildlife Management Areas and designated state lands.

Presenter: Wildlife Staff Specialist Russell Woolstenhulme

Summary:

The Department is recommending only minor changes to waterfowl and migratory bird seasons from those adopted by the Commission last year in March. New Federal frameworks allow for a daily bag limit of 2 pintail. The Department is recommending that the draw process for swans be eliminated and that those permits become available on a first come, first serve basis. Finally, the Department recommends minor changes to rules regulating public hunting on Wildlife Management Areas. To clarify and standardize open hunting regulations outside of waterfowl seasons, the Department has reworded and re-ordered management area rules to reflect that before or after any waterfowl season, hunting is allowed every day for wildlife species upon which there is an established season. The Department has also reworded dove and waterfowl reservation processes to clarify application instructions.

Season regulations for hunting migratory waterfowl, doves, and crows differ from some other common species, like mule deer, that are not governed by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service works with the states within designated flyways, and Nevada resides within the Pacific Flyway. Collectively, the Pacific Flyway develops regulatory sideboards known as the Federal Frameworks within which each state may promulgate seasons for hunting.

Continental and Flyway Conditions

Continent-wide, waterfowl abundance is similar to last year. The total 2017 duck population estimate (excluding scoters, eiders, long-tailed ducks, mergansers, and wood ducks) is 47.3 million birds. This population estimate is similar to the 2016 estimate of 48.4 million and is 34% higher than the long-term average. Mallards, gadwalls, widgeons, canvasbacks, redheads and green-winged teal are all above their long-term average. Greater and lesser scaup saw minor reductions from their long-term average abundance. Federal Frameworks for most species fall into the liberal season category, although Scaup fall into the standard season category.

Western Canada Geese numbers continue to increase and are currently over population objectives as are Pacific Greater White-fronted Geese and Western Canadian Arctic Snow Geese.

Most waterfowl from the Pacific Flyway nest north of Nevada. Nearly all of the of the U.S. prairies experienced above-average precipitation during the 2016-2017 winter. These weather patterns were reflected by increases in pond estimates throughout the prairie pothole region. Most prairie and parkland regions were fair to good for waterfowl production. The boreal region and Alaska exhibited wet winter conditions, which should aid waterfowl production. Most of the Canadian portion of the traditional area was rated as good this year with areas of excellent conditions that received greater annual precipitation.

The predicted abundance of mourning doves for September 2015 in the Western Management Unit were 45.8 million, which results in a standard regulatory alternative as prescribed by the harvest strategy.

Nevada

Mid-Winter waterfowl surveys for Nevada in 2018 show a large increase in over-winter bird use when compared with 2017.

Mid-Winter Survey
Year	Population	Number
2017	Ducks	28,961
	Geese	18,731
2018	Ducks	72,968
	Geese	16,806

Breeding Bird Population Survey surveys for Nevada show little variation between recent years in Nevada habitats, yet these numbers are also associated with dry marsh conditions state wide.

Breeding Bird Population Survey
Year	Population	Number
2016	Ducks	42,000 ( $\pm 8,900$ )
2017	Ducks	69,375 ( $\pm 17,460$ )

Habitat

In Nevada, 2016-2017 winter precipitation and run-off was record setting, after four consecutive years of below normal precipitation. Most wetlands in northern Nevada including the Carson Sink area (Stillwater National Wildlife Refuge, Carson Lake Wildlife Management Area) went through the summer at 80–150% coverage. Reservoir storage for this area was at 100% of capacity. Northern Nevada Great Basin reservoirs and runoff were similarly above average. Marsh conditions survey wide were excellent, with many marshes that have been dry for decades, now partially to completely covered.

As of February 1, 2018, year-to-date precipitation (Oct 1 – Feb 1) is looking moderate for Nevada. Lake Tahoe Basin precipitation was reported as 70% of normal, Walker River and Carson River Basins (including Lahontan Basin) were reported at 58% of normal, and Eastern Nevada (Ruby Marshes) was reported at 68% of normal. While precipitation is somewhat below average, most reservoirs are at 80–100% capacity. Consequently, summer water flows to marshes should be fully or close-to-fully allocated.

Recommendation:

The Department recommends that the Commission VOTE TO APPROVE CR 18-10 MIGRATORY GAME BIRD SEASONS, BAG LIMITS, AND SPECIAL REGULATIONS FOR WATERFOWL AND WEBLESS MIGRATORY GAME BIRDS; PUBLIC HUNTING LIMITED ON WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT AREAS AND DESIGNATED STATE LANDS – 2018–2019 SEASON AS PRESENTED.

At the Key Pittman WMA, reservations for hunting will be required only on the earliest opening day of the regular duck season and goose seasons. All hunters will check in at the main entrance on the opening day of waterfowl season. For the remainder of the waterfowl season, hunters will complete a reservation card obtained from the Frenchy Lake or Nesbitt Lake check station box and deposit the card in an appropriate drop box for each day hunted. Failure to turn in a completed card at the Key Pittman WMA or failure to check out at the Overton WMA may result in a citation being issued, and the loss of hunting privileges for the remainder of the season. No vehicles are allowed on the areas during the hunting season.

5. During the waterfowl season at the Overton WMA, an assigned hunt location program will be in effect. Hunters will make a reservation for one of three types of hunt locations (field, pond or bulrush plot) and the specific hunt location will be determined by a drawing at the check station prior to each day's hunt. NDOW reserves the right to adjust blind availability and blind assignments based on the conditions present on the day of the hunt.
6. A hunter with a reservation will be considered as a "no-show" if he does not present himself at the check station by one full hour before shooting time, except that at the Overton WMA, a hunter with a reservation will be considered a "no-show" if he does not present himself at the checking station one and one-half hours before shooting time during the waterfowl season.
7. Standby hunters must register at the check station upon arrival.
8. All reservations, permits and assigned hunting locations are nontransferable.
