Hey Tim,

I believe 7 feet should keep a coyote out, but they are pretty agile, it wouldn't surprise me if one ends up getting over eventually. As long as the fence doesn't have any sharp points at the top in case a deer tries to jump it. However, 7 feet is pretty much a barrier to deer. It is a small property so it isn't posing a barrier to a migratory corridor or something similar.

Thanks for reaching out.
