Thank you to our partners that participated!

Throughout January, we interviewed:

28 Organizations

72 programs

Bed/Unit Type Definitions

Emergency Shelter

Typically, short-term shelter with minimal supportive services for people experiencing homelessness.

Temporary Housing

(transitional, bridge, supportive community living)

Designed to provide people experiencing homelessness with the interim stability and support to successfully move to and maintain permanent housing.

Permanent Housing

(Permanent Supportive Housing & Rapid Rehousing)

Community-based housing without a designated length of stay in which formerly homeless individuals and families live as independently as possible.

Housing First
does NOT mean housing
only.

Housing First is an approach to connect individuals and families experiencing homelessness to housing without preconditions and barriers to entry, such as sobriety, treatment or service participation requirements.

The model depends upon robust wraparound services to maximize housing stability and prevent returns to homelessness.

Housing First
does NOT mean housing
only.

Take Aways & Opportunities

---

We have a lot of beds in our community. 3284!

We should consider how we utilize on emergency shelters within our continuum.

We could increase housing placements through regional coordination to utilize our housing supply as efficiently as possible.

Increased housing placements could be realized through centralizing data to track needs, trends and open beds.

There is an opportunity to better align the current beds with needs through reducing barriers and focusing on housing first.
