If you do not comply with this notice, your possession of the premises will be unlawful (called “unlawful detainer”), and your landlord may initiate an eviction against you by either serving you with a second Five-Day Notice to Quit for Unlawful Detainer or a Summons and Complaint for Unlawful Detainer. If the court determines that you are guilty of an unlawful detainer, the court may issue a summary order for your removal or an order providing for your nonadmittance, directing the sheriff to remove you not earlier than twenty-four (24) hours but not later than thirty-six (36) hours after posting the order.

Pursuant to NRS 118A.390, you may seek relief if a landlord unlawfully removes you from the premises or excludes you by blocking or attempting to block your entry upon the premises, or willfully interrupts or causes or permits the interruption of an essential service required by the rental agreement or Chapter 118A of the Nevada Revised Statutes.

¹Judicial days do not include the date of service, weekend, or certain legal holidays.
²See NRS 40.140 for the definition of nuisance.
